Field-Hunt Wedding At Tacoma, Washington

An early spring wedding took place on Saturday, March 27, at 6:30 o'clock, when Miss Katherine Virginia Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Waldo Hunt of Ridley Manor, Ridley Park, Pa., became the bride of Ensign Calvin Field, U. S. N. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Field of Northfield, in the Immanuel Presbyterian church, Tacoma, Washington.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Chauncey Baxter, was a very lovely figure in her gown of white slipper satin, fashioned on slim lines and with a short train. The net yoke was edged in lace, sleeves were long and pointed over the wrist, and the finger tip veil was held to cap shape by a coronet of orange blossoms. Gardenias and freesias formed the bridal bouquet, while baskets of spring flowers were at the altar.

The Rev. Harold B. Long officiated at the double ring ceremony and Ensign Wescott Woolen was the best man. Lieut. Henry Fuller and J. W. Robertson, U. S. N. R., were the ushers for forty guests who attended the wedding. Mrs. Frank Worden, organist, played the wedding music.

An informal reception and buffet supper followed at the University-Union club, Ensign and Mrs. Field left that evening for a few days stay at the Empress Hotel in Victoria, B. C., after which they returned to their home in Bremerton, Washington.

Second War Loan Gets Under Way Here Subscriptions Urged

The Second War Loan effort became operative throughout the nation on Monday and already many of our citizens have subscribed through the medium of the Post-offices or their banks. The opening of the drive in Northfield was emphasized by the publication of the advertisement in last Friday's Press, when a number of patriotic citizens lent their support. Through the mails every resident will receive a circular giving complete information of the investments offered by the government in its securities, and it is hoped that not only individuals but organizations as well will invest their permanent funds with Uncle Sam to help in winning the war. No better form of investment is possible. The campaign in this town will be directed by Frank W. Pearsall, the chairman of the original War Savings Committee, and the publicity will be handled by William F. Hoehn, editor of the Northfield Press.

Buy More War Bonds Today

In the drive, the government is asking to borrow $18,000,000,000 from the American people to help meet the steadily mounting costs of the most expensive war in the world's history.

The drive will last about three weeks. While it is in progress, war bonds can be purchased in amounts from $18.75 to $1,000,000. The treasury department has explained the purpose of the drive.

Of particular interest to individuals and to organizations with funds available for investment will be the long-term treasury bonds, maturing in 26 years, which pay 2 1/2 per cent interest annually. These bonds are available in denominations of $500 and up.

There will be seven different types of government securities in all. Others will include the familiar War Savings Bonds which return $4 at maturity for every $3 paid, tax notes, two per cent treasury bonds of 1950-52, and United States Savings Bonds. All of the bonds will be available during the Second War Loan drive at practically every financial institution.

No house-to-house campaign will be conducted in Northfield in the current War Loan drive. The Northfield War Savings Committee urges all townspeople to participate to the limit of their ability.

Series E bonds may be purchased at the Post Offices. Those interested in the other bonds included in this loan are invited to get in touch with Frank W. Pearsall, general chairman of the local committee.

"Sem" Spring Bookweek

This week marks the celebration of Spring Book Week at the Seminary. The most recent books are on display in Talcott Library and reviews of current books have been given by several of the student body. On Saturday evening, in Silverthorne Hall, Arthur C. Pillsbury, well-known botanist of Berkeley, Calif., will show some of his moving pictures, accompanied by a lecture. Mr. Pillsbury specializes in nature photography and among his outstanding achievements are his "lapse of time motion pictures" in which he has made it possible for people to witness, in a few minutes, the process of a growing plant from the time it is a seedling until it withers. Mr. Pillsbury has lectured for the National Geographic Societies of various cities and for many other clubs and organizations. Besides his interesting films on "The Story of the Green Leaf and the Food It Makes for Us" and "The Life of a Grasshopper and a Commentary on World War II," he is the author of "Picturing Life" in Plant and Animal

Generosity Marked Red Cross Drive Final Returns Send Us Beyond Quota

Northfield has concluded its effort in the recent Red Cross War Fund drive and the result is announced by Chairman George W. Carr of the local committee to the County chairman, George U. The total amount secured is $71,607 of which Greenfield is first with $42,035; Turners Falls, second with $3,965.50, and Orange third with $4,944.64.

County Chairman Hatch and Vice Chairman Samuel U. Street-er have said, "The outcome of this campaign will be a source of satisfaction to all citizens of Franklin county. In behalf of the national and county Red Cross organizations we wish to express our great appreciation both to the campaign workers and to the thousands of contributors who gave so generously. We may all feel that the money given may render a vital service to all our boys in uniform."

In a letter to the editor of the Press, Mr. Hatch further adds, that "I take this opportunity to thank you for the splendid support you have given us in your newspaper, the Press, during this campaign. Northfield did a fine job in this drive."

South Vernon Church Pastor Is Aggressive Ministers To Many Folk

Toward the close of the past year the Advent Christian church found itself without a pastor and at a congregational meeting after hearing several candidates, extended a call to the Rev. Elvin W. Blackstone of Lafayette, R. I. Mr. Blackstone accepted and with his wife and children arrived in South Vernon to occupy the parsonage and begin his work the first week in January, preaching his first sermon and beginning his work of ministrations on Sunday, January 4th.

A cordial greeting was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Blackstone, not only by his parishioners but by the many residents of the community who since have followed his successful work with keen interest and cooperation. In a short time they have made a very favorable impression upon church people in Northfield and the Editor of the Press, recognizing their splendid activities, has sought some information to further acquaint our people. While the church itself is located just over the line in Vermont, it serves not only the people thereabouts but adjacent to the location in South Vernon and West Northfield. Through the courtesy of a friend we are able to add to his introduction by the accompanying photograph.

Mr. Blackstone is a native of Maine and was born in the town of Wade, where he spent his boyhood. Enticed by the calling of the ministry, he entered the New England School of Theology and Gordon College, both of Boston. In 1930 he was ordained and since has occupied pastorates at Lowell, Mass.; Beals, Maine, and Lafayette, R. I. Mrs. Blackstone is also a graduate of the New England School of Theology and active in all religious effort. They have two children, boys, Arnold and Whitney, who at present are attending the South school in Vernon. Besides caring for her home duties she is giving much time to church duties and is a leader in the Sunday school, conducting the large class for high school girls. Since the pastorate has begun, many additions have been received into the membership of the church and the program has greatly expanded. Valuable service has come from Northfield and the assistance offered has resulted in both progress and extension of the church in the community. Recently a Men's Brotherhood has organized and holds meetings which are well attended.

Northfield welcomes the Blackstones and wishes for them every joy in the work which they have undertaken. The loyalty and devotion of the members of the church cannot be questioned and together all will work in extending the Kingdom of the Master in the hearts and living of the people.

Funeral Miss Ross Will Reveal Bequests

The funeral of Miss Margaret Ross, formerly of Mount Hermon and summer resident of this town, who died at Lynn Haven, Florida, on Thursday, April 1, was held at Alders funeral parlor on Friday afternoon of last week with the Rev. Edward C. Dahl of the Congregational church officiating. Many friends had gathered from this town and from Mount Hermon who had known her intimately and others were present from the summer colony, where she had been their neighbor and friend. Also attending were the four sons of Prof. and Mrs. L. L. Norton, in whose family she had faithfully served. They were Stephen Norton of West Orange, N. J.; Paul Norton of West Hartford, Conn.; Norman Norton of Middletown, Conn.; and Dr. Hermon Norton of Wauhan, Mass. Present also were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Marsh of Quincy, Mass.; Mrs. Marsn being her niece. Mr. Marsn was in the uniform of the U. S. Coast Guard and is serving at Provincetown.

The will of Miss Ross, dated October 16, 1933, has been filed in Probate court by the First National Bank and Trust Company of Greenfield who are named as executors of the will. The bulk of the estate is left to her niece, Dorothy Marsh of Quincy in the form of a trust fund. The income is paid to her until she reaches the age of 50 years, when she will receive the accumulated principal. It directs that in the event of death before that time, the money shall be paid to the Unitarian Congregational church of Northfield and to the Students' Art Society of Northfield Seminary. Other persons who receive specific bequests are Miss Alice Mae Snyder of Woodstock, Vermont, $100, and to Miss Alice Mae Snyder and Miss Katherine Snyder, both also of Woodstock, $200 each.

Clothing For Russia

Again the red, white and blue barrels, newly painted, on the porches of the IGA and A. & P. stores are ready to receive new contributions from local citizens and at this time the call is for clothing for Russia. The appeal is urgent and as the barrels fill up through the generosity of our citizens, the Daignault Express Co. of Greenfield will deliver the bundles to the Russian Clothing Center in Boston. Maderie Daignault of this concern has previously carried without charge, all of the clothing gathered in the same manner for Bundles for Britain. For Russia, only clean woolen articles are desired. It will be a help if mittens could be provided and women are urged to knit them. Use up your scraps of yarn for this purpose or send the scraps to Mrs. E. M. Powell who will arrange to have them used.

Fortnightly Annual

The annual meeting of the Fortnightly will be held today, Friday, at 3 p. m. in Alexander hall. The annual reports will be given and officers elected. FURTHER War Restrictions ON Telephone Service

All telephone service installed or reconnected on and after April 15th will be on a temporary basis, according to a War Production Board order, dated March 25, 1943.

This means that in the case of such temporary services, the Telephone Company may find it necessary to change a customer's grade of service (for example, as from a private to a party line), or to remove the telephone entirely.
Naturally, such action would generally be taken only if it became necessary to recover facilities required for essential needs of persons in direct defense, or responsible for public welfare or security.

The order also limits the number of telephones that may be installed within certain areas. This automatically stops installations in such areas as may have reached already the prescribed limit of telephones. As telephones now in service in such areas are removed, new installations may replace them from waiting lists which will be maintained.

Further installation, or reconnection, of residence extensions is prohibited, and when an instrument on the premises cannot be reconnected, it will be necessary to remove it.

Further restrictions are imposed on the installation of dial switchboards and teletypewriters.

These restrictions will inconvenience some people. It will be part of their sacrifice for Victory. If you should be affected, we know we shall have your understanding co-operation as we continue our own effort to hold telephone service to the highest possible standard.

TOWN TOPICS

Walter H. Jeslyn of Boston died Sunday at the Franklin County hospital at the age of 78, after several years of failing health. He was a brother of Mrs. Thomas Clark of Warwick avenue. He was a native of Putney, Vt., but for the past six years was at a home for aged men in Boston. Beside Mrs. Clark, he leaves another sister and a brother and several nieces and nephews. The funeral services were held at Kidders Funeral parlors Thursday afternoon and burial was in Putney.

In Probate court last week a decree was made changing the name of Leola S. Briggs of this town to that of Leola Sophia Woods.

Plan now for the observance of Mothers' Day which will come on Sunday, May 9th.

Members of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet Wednesday afternoon, April 21, with Mrs. N. Fay Smith at the Valley Vista Inn. The meeting is called for three o'clock.

Mrs. John E. Nye of Main street has returned to her home here after spending the winter at St.
Petersburg, Florida. She enjoyed her stay in the southland and greeted several Northfield friends there.

The group of Masons who enjoy playing pitch during the winter, each Friday evening at the Masonic hall, enjoyed a dinner served by women of the Unitarian church at the Masonic hall last Friday evening.

Mrs. H. A. Reed has sold her property, known as the Whittle house on Main street, to Wilbur Podlanski. The gas station was included in the transaction.

Truck owners are again reminded to check on their expired rationing coupon book for gasoline.
They must be renewed and you must call at the office of the board.
Gasoline stations must not accept coupons from expired books. This is a final notice.

Mrs. George E. Tyler, who spent the winter at the Vernon Home, has now returned to her home.

Price For Cord Wood Gone Crazy With Heat

Seasoned cord wood is a scarcity today and but little remains to be sold. The best variety of good hard wood brought last fall in the open market hereabouts an average price of $10 and later on $12. Then as seasoned wood disappeared, green wood was cut and delivered which brought the same price. With the scarcity of labor available for the cutting, even green wood brought a premium and woodlot owners found it impossible to secure choppers. It is said that a limited quantity of dried wood was taken to Boston by local farmers and there readily disposed of at $28 a cord, which is the price it is bringing there for specific purposes. Now word comes from Berkshire county that the urgent demand for fuel in the late cold spell has sent even green wood up to $24. A number of forward looking citizens in Northfield are now resolved that they will devote some of their spare time to going into the woods themselves and cut some timber in order to be assured of sufficient seasoned stock for next winter. It's a wise "guy" who will now start his woodpile for next winter.

To Take Study Course

Miss Virginia M. Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Powell, left last Sunday to attend the Institute on Group Work and Recreation in war-time which is being given at the New York school of Social Work. Upon completion of the course in May, Miss Powell will go to Washington to take the training course of the American Red Cross, before returning to the New Station Hospital at Fort Devens as an assistant recreation worker. Miss Powell has been at the Fort Devens post since last July as secretary to the Senior Recreation worker.

SPOT OF EARTH

Will there be earth in Heaven,
I wonder?
Dark loamy soil wherein to dig
And find the roots that cling to it As baby-fingers clutch a mother's breast?
Will there be soil to save from weeds
And turn it to a garden fair?
And woods to trim that beckon you To come and help them live?
Will there be hours when sweating brow
And aching back do pause a while And say, like God when first He made a garden spot—
"Behold, what I have wrought is very good?"

I cannot tell; and yet I hope, That if there be no earth in Heaven,
God still will find some way To let me dig, transplant and hoe.
Meanwhile I dig, transplant and hoe Right here, and wonder in my heart
If this be not Heaven itself, although I call it but my Spot of Earth!
George Lawrence Parker.

FOLKS, MAY I HAVE YOUR ATTENTION FOR 50 SECONDS?

I'm not one to preach. My job is to bring you electricity. I want to stick to that job.

But Uncle Sam has asked us to buy, in the next few weeks, THIRTEEN BILLION DOLLARS worth of war bonds to carry on this fight for freedom.

That is a great deal of money . . . about $100 for every man, woman AND child in this country, but I am sure that we can raise it, if we all realize fully what is asked of us.

There is more to this bond drive than money for munitions. We must fight inflation — the arch-saboteur of our standard of living. We are losing this fight today. Our best counter-attack is to stop buying EVERYTHING except bare necessities and war bonds for the next few weeks.

These war bonds mean jobs for our men when they get back . . . jobs making the things we can buy with our war bond savings . . . homes, and cars, and electrical servants.

Let's sit down tonight and figure a way to DOUBLE our war bond purchases each week for the next few weeks . . . putting in every cent not absolutely needed for food, shelter and other necessities.

To Hasten Victory

No American wants this war to go one minute beyond the time we can bring it to a victorious end. To hasten that victory—to save possibly the lives of millions of our boys on our far flung fronts—it is imperative that every American do his part in the Second War Loan. There is an investment to fit every purse. The most you can do is little enough compared with the sacrifice offered by our boys in service. They give their lives—you lend your money.

Bicycle Eligibility

Because of the recent ruling of OPA that school busses can no longer transport children living with a certain distance of their schools, the local Rationing Board has asked for and received an addition to their quota of bicycles for the month of April. This enlarged quota is made possible from the reserve stocks allotted to the state to meet emergencies.

Eligibility for certificates for bicycles has been extended to persons who attend school and perform work of a productive nature on a farm. The person must establish the fact that his usefulness can be increased by the use of a bicycle for transportation between school and home or the farm where he works. The applicant need not live on the farm to become eligible. However, he must devote part of his time to farm work. It is expected that most of the applicants for bicycles under this provision will be farm children living on the farm, who help out with the farm work before and after school hours.

Eligibility also includes public school teachers, school officials, or persons attending school, and others, who would have to walk a total of at least three miles in going to their work, occupation or activity. Likewise eligible are persons residing in areas where the value of basic gasoline rations has been reduced, and who are gainfully employed, or engaged in work which contributes to the war effort or the community welfare.

In case a person desiring a bicycle has doubts as to whether he may be permitted to buy one, a visit to the local Rationing Board will decide whether he qualifies under the seventeen different classifications of eligibility.

Don't Lose Ration Book

Local Rationing Boards have been instructed that consumers must take every precaution to prevent loss of their ration books. In case one is lost, the consumer must apply to his local board in duplicate for a replacement, one copy of which will be sent to the Enforcement Section of the District Office in Springfield. The applicant must also sign an affidavit that the book is lost, advertise in a newspaper twice in the ten days following the application, and also inform the police department of the loss.

After a lapse of ten days, the applicant may appear before the local board, and if the ration book has not been returned, he may be allowed a replacement by the

From Mr. Heeb's Sermon

Speaking on the "Unitarianism of Thomas Jefferson" last Sunday at the Unitarian church, Mr. Heeb said in part: Across the tidal basin in Washington a great monument to Thomas Jefferson will be dedicated next Tuesday. The radio programs will tell all about the third great president, his long service to country, his talents as an architect, farmer, educator, inventor, author in chief of the Declaration of Independence, but only in Unitarian and liberal circles will his free religion be emphasized. Few people will realize that he was a militant Unitarian, compiling his "Jefferson Bible" because he saw in the teaching of Jesus, the ideal ethical basis for life and government. This book of which he was very proud, was made up of the Gospels, the teaching, parables, the crucifixion of Jesus with a comparative epilogue of other non-Christian religions. Look at his tombstone upon which he caused to be inscribed three simple statements: Author of the Declaration of Independence, Statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom and Father of the University of Virginia. Nothing is said about his being president.

Jefferson believed in the dignity of humanity, that a free mind could commune with his Creator, much as a prince might talk to a king without the authority of priest or king. For this he was called infidel and atheist. Some people say, "I believe what I like." No we cannot do that. We believe what we can. Jefferson could not believe in an angry or jealous Deity but a God who has put into the heart of humanity a nobility and a sense of brotherhood powerful enough to make a peaceful and beautiful world. This idea of God found its way into the Declaration of Independence when he wrote in this revolutionary document this eternal principle: "All men are created equal—endowed by their Creator with unalienable rights—life, liberty and pursuit of happiness." Here is a stumbling block for every tyrant, for every narrow conception of religion that tries to hold sway over the mind of man. Freedom is the one word by which we will remember Jefferson. He carried this great American idea into every question that man can ask. It is our duty to carry on this noble declaration because all free-minded souls have learned that it is the will of God. Here is our American destiny.
